He became ill about five years ago with a gastrointestinal illness that has yet to be diagnosed. Officer Kosugi has undergone several surgeries (including emergency surgery) and a multitude of tests which have, at times, prevented him from working. He has also been hospitalized several times as a result of this illness.

Officer Kosugi is in dire need of financial assistance; his family is in danger of losing their home. He has a wife, a young daughter and two grown children.

Fundraising efforts at this event will include: spaghetti dinner, sports memorabilia for sale, a silent auction and a raffle.

Officer Kosugi's wife, Corrie, will attend the fundraiser and is willing to do media interviews. In addition, SDPOA President Bill Nemec will be available to media at the event.
